

The REINEKE FUCHS MUSEUM is a private Museum. It is member of the association of museums of local history.

“The Fox in art and literature”

Is the collective name for the about 2000 exhibits. More than 230 different books deal with Reynard the Fox. A great number of engravings, copies, foxes in porcelain, ivory, meerscham, glass, ceramics, wood and leather are exposed in the showcases. The oldest exhibits date from the beginning of the 18th century.

All exhibits are catalogued, numbered, labeled and photographed. The REINEKE FUCHS MUSEUM has been publicized by TV and press in many European countries. All exhibits can be asked for as a loan.